You won't find in our stores the capricious kind of shoes that are rarely wanted; but we have enough of the substantial and honest sorts to suit any man in New York. Maybe it's one of those Wauken-phasts at $3, $4, or $5.50; the bench-made French calf at $6.50; the cork sole French calfskin shoe at $7.50; or our wonderful $5 patent leather shoe.

Every one is good enough for an essay by itself, but not a whit better than our clothing. There's not a doubt of it; we sell better shoes—the good sorts at lower prices than any one else.
